About Our Company

At Tap, we believe in the power of people and want you to be able to find your perfect match. Our team has been hand-selected for their ability not only with recruitment but also how they make this process easy on both sides; giving everyone involved a frictionless experience from start through the finish!

We're small enough that everyone on our team can offer plenty of support - whether it means answering questions or helping out at recruiting events like job fairs--and large enough where nobody gets lost among all those other businesses looking just as desperate (if not more) than them when it comes down advertising positions available right now.
